

CROPWELL ROAD / A52 JUNCTION UPDATE

Dear all,

Just to confirm the traffic management, which has an impact on the turns in and out of Cropwell Road. The night of Tuesday 31st January, we will be installing

- permanent single lane running, on A52, through Cropwell Road junction in both directions
- Disconnection of the traffic signals
- Installation of a push button pedestrian crossing
- Barriers to stop any right turns (in to Cropwell rd, North or South) and the crossing of A52
- The main service Bus stops will become temporary and locations may change slightly throughout the duration of the works but will always remain operational

At present these works are programmed to last for approx. 14 weeks

If I have inadvertently missed someone off, could you forward this email on please
